Compunetix Video Systems Division Introduces Companion Suite of Solutions at InfoComm 2016

Monroeville, Pa., May 31, 2016 – The Compunetix, Inc. Video Systems Division (VSD), a global leader in carrier grade infrastructure and high definition video collaboration solutions for room, desktop, and mobile users, is pleased to introduce its Companion Suite line of collaboration offerings designed specifically for conferencing in the cloud. As a global pioneer in creating collaborative workspaces for partners and their customers, Compunetix now adds the Companion Suite for the modern workspace. The Suite incorporates flexible connection choices including traditional and USB connected rooms, desktop, mobile, and our new enhanced HD audio, so connections can be established anywhere.

Companion Plus also provides access to a set of defined meeting services, enhancing the value of high profile events. As collaboration events grow in scale and meeting requirements change, Companion offers a clear growth path with additional services including meeting facilitators and broadcast streaming. Because new market models demand new responses to customer requirements, a variety of joint implementation options are available for the Companion line, including on premise, hosted, cloud-based, or hybrid premise-to-cloud solutions.

Companion Suite is available now and will be on display at InfoComm 2016 in booth N2539. InfoComm is the largest event in the United States focused on the audiovisual industry, and will be held at the Las Vegas Convention Center on June 4 – 10. With more than 950 exhibitors, thousands of products and 40,000 attendees from 108+ countries, the InfoComm show is the once-a-year opportunity to see the latest technologies. For a free pass to attend this premier event, visit www.infocommshow.org and enter code COM175 when registering.

“We are excited to offer our flexible collaboration solution services powered by Companion,” stated Eric Murphy, VSD’s Director of Global Solutions. “Compunetix offers the best-of-breed collaboration solutions that are customizable to fit every need.”
